

March 1, 1995

The Villager

West Village, East Village, Soho, Tribeca and Lower East Side

Exhibitions

Contradictory

Ian Phillips' exhibition at the Lannon Gallery consists of paintings that use classical techniques to depict ordinary subjects without traditional beauty. Phillips places his expressionless characters in a theatrical world of fable and fairy tale, and creates a sense of contradiction, the old and the new, of naturalism and artifice. Above: Untitled 84 x 69 ins.

Paintings by Ian Phillips, at the Lannon Gallery, 530 W. 22nd St., Mar. 2-April 3, Wed.-Sun., 11 A. M.-6 P. M. 255-7115.